WAVELAND VOTERS LINE UP TO EXPRESS PREFERENCES

Ladner Is Re-elected Mayor of Waveland

Mayor Garfield Ladner was elected overwhelmingly to a fifth term in office by 108 votes (unofficial) in the election Tuesday at Waveland. Total votes cast for Mayor Ladner were 287. He was opposed by Cornelius Herlihy, a town alderman and a prominent merchant, who polled 179 votes.

Mayor Ladner expressed his appreciation for the confidence placed in him by the vote and promised his full cooperation with his new board of aldermen.

"I am, of course, delighted by the overwhelming vote cast for me in the election Tuesday," the mayor said. "I appreciate the loyal support given to me by the citizens of Waveland and would like to thank everyone who assisted in my re-election. I promise the citizens of Waveland that I will do everything in my power to promote the progress of our town and will cooperate in every way I can with the board of aldermen."

Both Town Marshal Fred Bourgeois and Town Treasurer

William Bourgeois were returned to office. Marshal Bourgeois was opposed by Wallace Bourgeois and Jack Toomey while the town treasurer was opposed by Edward Tucker.

Only Alderman Toney Bourgeois was returned to office. He was unable to attend the election as he is still confined to a New Orleans hospital recovering from injuries received while on duty as night jailer at Hancock County Jail. Alderman Bourgeois easily took the Third Ward slot by a margin of 24 votes over his two opponents, Ducre Bourgeois and William Soldini.

William Ruhr was elected alderman of the First Ward, polling 10 votes. His opponents were incumbent J. A. Weinfurter and John Garza.

Residents of the Second Ward elected Dominic Sonier to represent them on the council. Maurice Martin was the only other candidate. This ward is the home ward of Mr. Herlihy, the mayoralty candidate.

Incumbent Norvin Penrose was defeated by Albert Grass in the Fourth Ward by 16 votes with Mr. Grass drawing 54 and Mr. Penrose 38 votes.

Five members were elected to the Democratic Executive Committee. They are Mrs. Fred Bourgeois, Mrs. Thelma Henley, Harry Lynch, Mrs. Ruth Meilieur and Mrs. Adaline Samuel.

The Democratic Committee plans to meet tonight to examine the returns and make them official.

No Leads Are Uncovered $1,650 Armed Robbery

No leads have been found in the reported armed robbery of more than $1,650 from Bay St. Louis pecan dealer Frank Dillman, Sheriff's Deputy James Dillman, an investigating officer, said today.

Johnny Necaise said he and Leonard Ladner were shot by Mr. Dillman to the interior of US-90 and Bayou du Large Rd. the morning of Oct. 30. Mr. Dillman told the men he had left Merchants and Trust Co. with the money at about 10:30 a.m.

He entered his truck, parked outside Mr. Dillman's store, crouched on the floor of the truck and ordered him to drive. He threatened to kill him if he did not comply with the order. The pecan merchant said he complied with the bandit's request, and the robbery was followed by a bandit in an old model Chevrolet.

Mr. Dillman said, the bandit took his money and fled. He had been in the truck for about two minutes when the bandit, who beat him on the head with his gun, threatened to kill him. Mr. Dillman said he was deterred by the bandit's threat.

The older bandit was described as being about 6 feet tall, weighing 155 pounds and wearing a gray coat. Mr. Dillman said the younger man was 5 feet, 10 inches tall, weighed 145 pounds and wore a blue suit. He told Chief Deputy Carl Garcia that both men wore mustaches, apparently false.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol substation at Gulfport said a report it received indicated the license tag on the bandit's car was covered with a piece of cloth.

BURNED TRUCK--Fire ruined 26,000 pounds of sugar and almost 6,000 pounds of coffee when this Mobile, Ala., grocery truck trailer was burned Oct. 30 on US-90 about eight miles west of Bay St. Louis. The sugar which fell out on the roadside was melted by the flames and resolidified into hard, sticky masses. The charred coffee cans are strewn about the wreckage.

Father of Four Killed as Truck Is Overturned

A 27-year-old Rocky Hill Community father of four was killed at 7:30 Saturday night when the truck he was driving overturned on State Highway 603, four miles north of Kiln Rd.

The truck fell on top of the driver, Vernon Necaise, after he was thrown out. He suffered a crushed head and chest.

Mr. Necaise, a welder and burner for Ingalls Shipyard, Pascagoula, was pronounced dead by a coroner's jury headed by Coroner Emile Piazza. Jurors were H. J. Peterson, Marvin Bobinger, Earl Ladner, Pat Koenig, Larry S. Ladner and Latham Garriga. James Necaise was bailiff.

Investigating officers were Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner, James Necaise, Earl Ladner and Mr. Garriga, all deputy sheriffs, and Beat 4 Constable, Marvin Bobinger.

The body was taken to the McDonald funeral home at Piquette where services were at 10 a.m. Monday. Religious services were in the Catholic Church of the Annunciation at Kiln. Burial was in Bayou Coco Cemetery.

Survivors include Mr. Necaise's wife, Betty Jean; a daughter, Norma Jean, 6; three sons, Anthony, 4, Johnny, 3, and Terry, 2, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Necaise, also of Rocky Hill Community.

Fire Nearly Destroys Grocery Truck Trailer

Two Pass Christian volunteer firemen were called to the scene of a burning Mobile, Ala., grocery truck trailer Oct. 30 on US-90, about eight miles west of Bay St. Louis.

Joe Hayden, fireman, and Richard Purchner, assistant chief of the volunteer fire department, were called by Bob Murray, driver of the truck, who said he had been unable to obtain help from the Bay St. Louis or Waveland fire departments.

Funeral services for Dr. Kotz Allen were at New Orleans today. The prominent 83-year-old eye, ear, nose and throat specialist died at 4:05 p.m. Monday in Charity Hospital at New Orleans.

A woman was taken to the hospital where she was treated for a fractured nose and was released.

Architect Has 40 Pages of Drawings

Hospital Plans Delayed

Wilfred Dawson, Gulfport architect hired to design a new Hancock County Hospital, appeared at Monday's meeting of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors with 40 pages of blueprint drawings of the proposed hospital. However, he told the supervisors that the plans were not ready to be presented to the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care.

The architect, who originally had promised to deliver the plans in July, said that some specifications still had not been turned in by his electrical engineer, D. B. Short. Mr. Dawson also said that some information had to be typed.

Earlier this fall Mr. Dawson had promised to complete the plans by Sept. 12. Later he said he had every reason to believe that advertisement for bids would begin by Oct. 15, the date he originally had set for such action.

Oct. 20 Mr. Dawson appeared before the board and was told that if plans were not completed by the end of that week he and all others involved in completing the plans would be asked to account for the delay at the next meeting of the board. Monday he appeared with the promise to complete the plans by Wednesday.

In other business the supervisors heard complaints from three citizens regarding the legality of closing sections of two roads.

Pat McGinty asked that the road between Ansley and Claiborne be opened. The road was closed in 1953 by order of the board of supervisors, D. V. Green (Please Turn to Back Page)

Supreme Court Upholds Jury Award of Damages

The Mississippi State Supreme Court Monday reversed a judgment notwithstanding the verdict sustained by Circuit Court Judge Leslie Grant in September, 1937, in an assault and damage suit brought by Bay St. Louis attorney Cornelius J. Ladner against Maurice J. Artigues, a member of the Bay St. Louis Democratic Executive Committee.

The suit brought by Mr. Ladner resulted from "personal injury and humiliation" he claimed he received at the hands of Mr. Artigues during a city election May 8, 1937.

Mr. Ladner claimed injuries when he was bodily ejected from the South Bay voting precinct by Mr. Artigues. Mr. Ladner claimed at the time of the altercation he was assisting his aged mother in voting.

At the circuit court trial in September, 1937, witnesses testified, however, that Mr. Ladner had been present at the polls several times during the day and at the time of the altercation his sister was present also (Please Turn to Back Page)

First Aid Class Starts Monday

The difference between a poisonous and non-poisonous snake bite, the proper way to immobilize a broken limb and the correct method of transportation of the injured are among items to be taught in a public first aid training course, beginning Monday night in the parish house of Christ Episcopal Church.

Edgar A. Little, Hancock County Hospital administrator, and Fred Quint will be instructors.

First aid was defined by Mr. Little as "immediate and temporary treatment in case of accident or sudden illness until the services of a physician can be obtained."

Included in the course outline are treatment of burns, wounds, shock, poisoning, drowning and snakebites, immobilization of broken limbs and transportation of the injured.

Stressing the need for more extensive first aid training, Mr. Little said the total accidental deaths in any given year will average 90,000, according to figures given in "Accident Facts," a booklet released by the National Safety Council. The number of injuries in any given year, says the booklet, will be 1,920,000.

Total cost of accidents is estimated at $4,700,000,000. Medical fees and hospital bills are included.

Legion Post Plans Parade For Veterans Day Tuesday

In honor of veterans of all wars, Clement R. Bontemps Post of the American Legion will sponsor a mammoth parade and solemn ceremonies at Hancock County courthouse on Veterans Day Tuesday.

The marching bands of Bay High and St. Stanislaus will provide music for the ceremonies and parade.

Route of the parade is: up Carroll Ave. to Beach, down Beach to Main St., down Main to

S. Second St., down S. Second to Union St., up Union to Beach, and up Beach to Main and the courthouse.

J. F. Green, State Legion department sergeant at arms, will deliver the address. Post Commander Warren Buehler will present a new American flag to board of supervisors president Jack Lott. The flag will replace the one now flown from the courthouse.

The Rev. Adrian Mercier, assistant pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Church, will say the invocation and the benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. Charles R. Johnson, rector of Christ Episcopal Church.

City and county officials will be present at the ceremonies and

Hunting Safety

Fall and winter months inevitably bring the danger of hunting and gun accidents to thousands of Mississippi nimrod. John Underwood, president of the Mississippi Safety Council, comments "Hunting is a wonderful, outdoor sport and provided the hunter observes a few basic safety rules, can be as safe as any other sport."

Mr. Underwood adds, "Hunting accidents can be prevented if we observe these basic rules of safety from the National Safety Council":

- 1-Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
- 2-Guns carried into camp or home must always be unloaded and taken down or have actions open; guns always should be encased until reaching the shooting area.
- 3-Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstruction.
- 4-Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble. Keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
- 5-Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.
- 6-Never point a gun at anything you don't want to shoot.
- 7-Unattended guns should be unloaded. Guns and ammunition should be stored safely beyond the reach of children and careless adults.
- 8-Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.
- 9-Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
- 10-Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

Two Legislative Steps Needed To Make Unions Safe for Labor

By MAURICE E. FRANKS
President, National Labor-Management Foundation

Surprised, perhaps, that nothing solid resulted from the gaudy show put on by Sen. McClellan's committee? Seems incredible to you, does it, that the 85th Congress shut up shop without enacting a single line of corrective labor legislation?

Well, really there's no cause for surprise. No tidal wave of public opinion came flooding into the offices of our senators and representatives asking and demanding such legislation. That's the answer. Let's not make that same mistake with the 86th Congress and insist that it enact legislation making unionism safe for labor. Making unionism safe for labor will also make it safe for the employer and the general public.

To make unionism safe for labor—safe not only from organized crime, but from leaders bent on perpetuating themselves in office, legislation involving but two steps should be enacted:

1. The devices of compulsory unionism—the closed shop, union shop, maintenance of membership, or under whatever name they may exist—must be outlawed.

2. A dependable secret ballot for the election of all union officers and convention delegates and in the taking of any strike ballot must be guaranteed all union members by both state and federal law.

Those two basic steps should be carefully considered by every American voter in the weeks to come and a clear-cut demand that they be taken should be personally communicated to every candidate for legislative office.

The issue here should be divorced from party politics and be a clear expression of citizenship, regardless of partisan affiliation. Then, with that air cleared at least, maybe the 86th Congress will be better prepared to return real democracy to the labor movement and put unionism back into the hands of the workers where it belongs.

Voluntary unionism and union democracy, once they are established by federal statute and by act of legislature in every state in the nation. To make this stick in the mind of the Supreme Court of the United States and guarantee that it will survive all juristic derring-do on the high bench, such a ban should eventually emerge as an amendment to our Federal Constitution.

linked by law as basic to the granting of any union charter, will together restore to the labor movement the very respectability it has of late years so largely lost.

Give workers the right to join or not to join a union—along with the right to resign without forfeiting their employment—and in no time flat, we'll find union leadership working early and late to make unionism generally attractive.

Protect union members in their parliamentary right and safeguard their election balloting from all forms of tampering, and they'll see to it that their officers either toe the moral and fiscal marks or find other fields to disgrace.

Return to American labor these two fundamental human rights—just these two rights alone—and there will be no union overlord to kick our workers around. There'll be no unsavory links between organized labor and organized crime. There'll be no pilfering hands laid on any union's treasury—and no kangaroo courts to kick downstairs such union members as may come to ask for an accounting or to prefer charges against officials involved in wrong-doing.

Make it possible for union members to run their own meetings—their business, educational or social—and there'll be no demands for attendance, through whatever attendance, broader horizons and broader activities will develop. Unionism itself will become more and become a much fuller participant in the progress and development of American society.

Make it possible for an honest strike vote to be spread, secret and honestly counted, and far fewer work stoppages will mar our industry and cast their blight upon employment—and that's the story.

One enemy of American labor may be the ruthless employer. Another enemy of ever greater stature and "connections" may be the union leader who holds his corner of the labor movement in a vice of autocratic iron. But actually, the worker's greatest present enemy is the law—and its lack—which cravenly and stupidly turns its back on his fundamental rights and enables certain labor leaders, figuratively at least, to get away with murder.

Yes, to make unionism safe for labor—that is America's job here at home. The rest is red herring and smoke screen, put there to obscure the basic problem of labor and the law.

Each year in the last decade, industry has poured hundreds of millions of dollars in the Gulf South—the area called by United Gas. These investments were made because the Gulf South had the solutions to specific location problems—greater markets, more diversified raw materials, better transportation, lower land and labor costs because of adverse weather. Now, too, is natural gas, in quantities to solve industry's fuel problems. Investigate the Gulf South as a location for your new plant.

Farmers Eligible For Financial Aid

Farmers were requested today by Miss Mary E. Favis, manager of the Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee office, that financial help may be obtained through the agricultural conservation program to improve existing pastures.

On virtually every farm in Hancock County there are pastures that are not producing maximum grazing and soil protection because the soil fertility is low or additional grasses and legumes should be seeded. The application of additional fertilizer and the planting of additional seeds should be done in the fall to have maximum growth in the spring of 1955. Some of the legumes and grasses recommended for additional to existing pastures are crimson clover, white Dutch clover and ryegrass.

Farmers who are interested in improving their pastures are urged to visit the ASC county office at Bay St. Louis to discuss their conservation problems and to file a request for cost-sharing.

Waveland Man Eighth Victim Of Auto Crash

The death of Anthony Bridges, 30-year-old Waveland Negro, at about 3:30 p.m. Oct. 30, brought to eight the total killed as a result of injuries suffered in a two-car collision Oct. 26 on old US-90 at the Nicholson Ave. intersection.

Bridges was the driver of the car which struck broadside an auto carrying seven Negroes, all of whom were killed instantly. Bridges was taken to Hancock County Hospital and transferred to Memorial Hospital at Gulfport for treatment of two broken legs, a broken back and neck injuries. His condition was listed as poor until his death.

Fahy-Whitfield funeral home was in charge of Bridges services Sunday.

Where Your Ship Comes In

No single development in the South since World War II can equal the expansion of its seaports and its export and import trade.

Altogether, Southern ports are spending $300 million in 1958 in the improvement of their harbor and other shipping facilities. Florida is spending $20 million; Georgia, $10 million; South Carolina, $21 million; Alabama, in the port business since 1922, is spending $10 million; New Orleans is expending $14 million with a ten-year $120 million program projected and a $96 million deep channel from the city to the Gulf being undertaken by the Federal Government.

And studies are now underway to determine if Mississippi should take over the Ports of Gulfport and Pascagoula as State Authorities.

Why this unprecedented port development in Dixie? A favorable climate for year-round shipping and good relations are advantageous, as is the proximity of the seaports to raw materials and markets. But primarily the South's phenomenal growth of industry has stimulated this new construction. Port development and industrial expansion always go hand in hand, as Southern ports have increased their tonnage 120 percent since 1946, against a national gain of 100 percent.

Coffee, bananas, molasses, petroleum, petrochemicals, bauxite, phosphates, cotton, paper, naval stores and grain, all contribute to this multi-billion-dollar activity.

It is an inspiring experience to be surrounded by this swelling commerce and to realize that Gulfport, Where Your Ship Comes In, one day will share in large measure these golden opportunities coming over the horizon in Gulf Coast waters.

A gentle climate, an ample rainfall, an abundant water supply, oil and gas discoveries on the increase, good neighbors, an aroused and aggressive citizenship, multiplying payrolls, excellent harbor facilities, these are only some of the essential ingredients out of which we build a more enduring prosperity in this Gulf Coast country. In the perspective of the future, ours is the brightest spot on the national map.

purpose of assisting the elder Mrs. Ladner in voting.
Testimony revealed that election managers had offered their assistance to the elder Mrs. Ladner and witnesses said that the sister was advised that she could not legally be present in the polling place.
Mr. Ladner, testimony revealed, became angered and "created a disturbance." Mr. Artigues, the testimony continued, ejected Mr. Ladner in an effort "to preserve the peace."
A circuit court jury found for the plaintiff, Mr. Ladner, returning a verdict of $100.
After the jury verdict, attorneys Dan M. Russell and Sam L. Favre, representing Mr. Artigues, filed a motion for a judgment notwithstanding the verdict. Judge Grant then sustained this motion removing the jury verdict.
Mr. Ladner acted as his own attorney.
In the Supreme Court decision written by Justice Arrington, the plaintiff was awarded the $100 verdict returned by the local jury plus interest and court costs.
